

ERRATA

IGCSE Cambridge International Mathematics (0607) Core

2011 first print

page 427 TEXT the diagrams for positive and negative relationships should be the correct way around:

Step 3: Look at the spread of points to make a judgement about the strength of the correlation. For positive relationships we would classify the following scatter diagrams as:

We classify the strengths for negative relationships in the same way:

